New Publications.

HARPER & BROTHERS, New-York.
PUBLISH THIS DAY:
I.
TWO CHEAP EDITIONS
OF FROUDE'S CESAR.

Mr. Froude excels in bright and graphic descriptions. His account of Caesar's military campaigns gives the reader a clear and sound idea of the eight years of hard marching and fighting which established the Roman dominion in the northwest of Europe. . . . He follows Caesar as Caesar would have wished to be followed, in a simple and lucid narrative, in which the events speak for themselves, unencumbered by pedantic disquisition or rhetorical ornament. The book deserves to be read.—Quarterly Review, London.

II.

CHEAP EDITION OF METTERHEIM'S MEMOIRS.

Memoirs of Prince Metterheim. 172-1815. Edited by Prince Richard Metterheim. The Papers Classified and Arranged by M. A. de Klinkowstrom. Translated by Mrs. Alexander Napier. Part I. 4to, Paper, 20 cents.

Dodecimo Edition in press.

There was a mystery in Metterheim; he has bared it for us in his own memoirs, which rank among the most important political memoirs of the century.—R. H. STIGGARD in The Critic.

III.

CHEAP EDITION OF
DEAN STANLEY'S CHRISTIAN INSTITUTIONS.

Christian Institutions. Essays on Ecclesiastical Subjects. By A. P. Stanley, D. D., Dean of Westminster. 12mo, Cloth, 60 cents.

Under this title the Dean of Westminster presents his many readers with a number of connected essays, old and new, on the Sacrament of Baptism, the Protestant Absolution, Ecclesiastical Violence, the Nicene, the Chalcedony, the Pope, the Latin, the Roman Catacombs, the Cross of the Early Christians, the Lord's Prayer, the Council and Creed of the Later Fathers, and the Ten Commandments. They have all an antiquarian, historical, and practical interest and are treated in a very liberal and very attractive style. Incongruous as a genius as well as a scholar, and has a rare power of writing.—Her. Dr. Flung Schaff, in the Critic.
